Dear Friends: Some devastating, a few uplifting climate stories: Trump's abandonment of Paris climate deal to cost U.S. economy trillions, coastal erosion devouring Senegal fishing hub, markets underpricing climate risks, experts on fire season 2018 alarmed; intense heat wave in Karachi and flooding in India linked to climate change. Yet Marin gets resources for projects combating sea level rise, green rooftops are taking hold, families sue EU over climate change and Duke and Duchess of Sussex leave Windsor castle in an all electric Jaguar Roadster! Belle and team

I inform people that other states or countries are adopting some pretty aggressive renewable and efficiency standards. My follow up question is: "Your competitors are gearing up to run their economy on fuel that is free. What's your response?" GreenTechMedia: California's recently approved solar roof mandate for all new homes came as a surprise to [...] Read more of this post
